Claiborne Elected to Board of Directors and Finance Committee

University of Central Missouri Selects Founder of Financial Professional Group to Serve

Overland Park, Kansas – February 28, 2013 –Financial Partners Group announced today that Founder James Claiborne has been selected to serve on the University of Central Missouri’s Board of Directors and Investment Committee.

“Being asked by Dr. Jason S. Drummond, Executive Director of the University of Central Missouri Foundation, to sit on the Board of Directors and Investment Committee is an honor,” said Claiborne. “Supporting the next generation of financial professionals is important in helping to sustain the future of the financial services industry.”

Claiborne’s duties will include attending various board meetings and Investment Committee meetings throughout the year at the University of Missouri in Warrensburg, Missouri. According to the University of Central Missouri’s Foundation Board of Director position description, a board member serves as the primary governing body to establish and promote the mission, participate in the development of the strategic vision, and assist in securing the adequate resources needed.
